Council Throws Out Mall, Civic Center; Differs On Motel Orange Zone

The City Council removed the Ocean Avenue Mall and the Civic Center from the Carmel Planning Commission's recommended master plan for the city in 25 words and the same number of seconds in study session Monday night. This came after they spent some two hours tossing around the Orange Zone (motel-business office belt between business district and residential district) which the planning commission had specifically deleted from the Livingston Plan.

When the planning commission adopted their much truncated version of the Livingston plan and passed it to the city council for approval, they told the council that they favored a transition zone, and it should have study in the future, but at present it is highly controversial, as they learned from the two public hearings they held on the Livingston Plan. The planning commission needs a plan to give them status before the County Planning Commission when they protest the type of development springing up in the unincorporated areas around Carmel.

First Move To Put Right To Work On Ballot In April

The right to work committee stated then and is basing their action now on the contention that they are asking for an ordinance which provides for civil redress rather than criminal penalty, and their ordinance is based on the Tehama County Ordinance, which has been upheld, not the Palm Springs Ordinance.

The movement for a right to work ordinance grew out of the citizens' resentment against the six months' picketing of the Blue Bird Restaurant on Ocean Avenue, by the Restaurant, Hotel Employees and Bartenders Union, which maintained that when the restaurant changed hands in April, the new owners were bound by a contract the union said it held with the former owners. Following the Right to Work Committee's petition to the city council in September the union withdrew the pickets and brought suit against the restaurant for $65,150, claiming loss of employment of union members, $12,500; cost of picket line, $2,650, and general damages of $50,000.

Last Week Judge Stanley Lawson in Salinas upheld the demurrer filed by the restaurant's attorney, Charles McHarry, on two principal grounds, that the union doesn't have legal capacity to sue since it is an unincorporated association, and that the union had failed to allege a contract with the present owners. To allege one with a former owner is not sufficient.

Monterey Council Approves State Freeway Plans

Tuesday night the Monterey City Council, after hearing objections from home owners and motel owners, approved the State Highway Division plans for a freeway to carry Highway No. 1 traffic through Seaside and Monterey to Carmel hill. It runs along the sand dunes west of Seaside, swings inland to join Fremont Street at the intersection with the Salinas highway, goes along Fremont Street to Vieja Canyon, swings south to pass behind Monterey college, then west past the proposed Del Monte Properties Shopping Center at the Old Capitol Site to join the Carmel Hill road near Soledad Drive.

Lobos Background, Jeffers in Movie At Hill Theatre

Once Upon A Sunday, a semi-documentary color movie, with a cast of local people filmed against the background of Point Lobos, will have its world premiere Friday evening at the Hill Theatre.

Robinson Jeffers appears in the film, photographed from above near clefts of rock with surging surf below, while the sound track carries his voice reading his own verse. Other local persons in the cast are Henry and Eve Miller, Ephraim and Rosa Doner, Chase Drake, Bob Read, Melissa Lofton and Eric Barker.

The film "explores patterns of contemporary American life set against the changing but unchanged ways of nature," says Bob Read who is bringing Once Upon A Sunday to Peninsula audiences through Monday.

N. H. Cominos, head of special effects at Twentieth Century-Fox is producer and director of the film which will be entered in the documentary feature category for an Academy award.

JUDGING STARTS FRIDAY

Judging of Carmel's business district windows will take place this weekend, starting tomorrow, is the announcement of Walt Pilot, chairman of the Business Association's Christmas decorations contest.

Two $50 prizes and four of $25 will be awarded to winners in the six classes.

Sunset Pageant Tonight

In keeping with a twenty-eight year old tradition, Carmel's Sunset School will present its annual Christmas pageant tonight, 8:00 o'clock at Sunset School. There will be a fifty voice choir singing traditional carols, as well as folk carols, under the direction of Mrs. Donnelly Fenn, as scenes from the Christmas story unfold on the stage.

The stage has been turned into a cathedral setting this year under the able direction of Kenneth Wiese and his stage crew.

The play itself was written and directed by Joe Broadman, Sunset Art Teacher, who is in charge of the over-all production once again this year.

There were two dress rehearsals this week, on Tuesday, at 2:35, is for Sunset pupils only, the second, on Wednesday, at 2:35, for Woods and River pupils.

There were opportunities of hearing the choir for those that couldn't attend the performances. They sang for Carmel's Kiwanis Club at 1:00 o'clock on December 12 and on radio station KIDD on Tuesday. The entire choir were caroling on Ocean Avenue on Tuesday night from 6:30 to 8:00 o'clock.

The cast and choir are as follows:

Mary Dunbaugh's Arraignment Is Continued To Friday

Mrs. Mary Dunbaugh, arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants with injury, obtained a continuance until next Friday at the request of her attorneys, Gordon Campbell and Fred Farr.

The warrant was issued by the district attorney's office after receiving a report from the Carmel Police Department on an accident involving Mrs. Dunbaugh on Saturday night.

Linda Malis, 19, a pedestrian, received a broken pelvis when the car, driven by Mrs. Dunbaugh, hit her and Will Miller, 21, at the intersection of Monte Verde and Ninth Streets. Previous to hitting the pedestrians, Mrs. Dunbaugh's car hit two parked vehicles on Monte Verde Street, and another after the people were hit.

Mrs. Dunbaugh told police her throttle stuck when she pulled out of a parking place near the Golden Bough Theater at 11:33 o'clock. Following the accident Mrs. Dunbaugh agreed to a blood alcohol test administered by the Carmel police department.

A film based on a story by Alan Marcus, Carmel Highlands newcomer, will be shot here on the Peninsula this spring and "will involve eventually part of the Sicilian colony that lives here and part of the Monterey and Carmel resident community." Originally a novella entitled The Lethal Charge, its tentative film title is A Baby for Henry. Marcus is also doing the screen play.

The film is being made by a young film company called the Camera Eye Pictures headed by Clyde Louis Stoumen hitherto known for his documentaries. This will be Stoumen's first attempt at a fiction theme. His documentary on photography, The Naked Eye, featuring Edward Weston, had its first public showing at the Hill Theatre two years ago followed by a commercial showing several months ago. His most recent production is The True Story of the Civil War, a remarkable documentary made up entirely of still photography taken by Brady and others who actually went out in the field and photographed the Civil War. It won Stoumen an Academy Award last year.

The film to be produced here this spring, according to Marcus, is "an adult treatment of an adult theme; and it might be described as a psychosomatic comedy involving sex." The story concerns a somewhat bookish and otherworldly couple and their attempts and failures to have a baby over a prolonged period of time. The setting is Monterey. The man works on a Bookmobile, the wife for the Monterey post office.

"If the film has any meaning at all," Marcus went on, "it is that we have become criss-crossed and tongue-tied with self-consciousness as a generation. It is not a film about sex so much as about the inability to live and let go."

Incidentally, this otherworldly couple who perpetuate their struggles in the midst of a fertile Sicilian population, eventually do succeed in having a baby.

Alan Marcus, who is 35 years old, was born in Rhode Island, went to Brown, and fought in World War II. Originally he started out to be a musician and had a jazz band in New York, but he gave up music in favor of writing.

His first book was entitled Straw to Make Bricks. He has also written short stories published in the Atlantic Monthly, one of which won him an Atlantic first. He (Continued on Page Sixteen)

County Planners Appear Unimpressed By Strong Opposition To Knolls

BY GUNNAR NORBERG

The people of Carmel and all the adjacent areas spoke with single intent and for only one purpose and in a single cause—emphatically, urgently, eloquently—at last Tuesday's Meeting of the Monterey County Planning Commission at the Salinas courthouse. They simply wanted the Commission to stand by what they had understood was the Commission's own expressed purpose to maintain the one-acre minimum building site requirement in the part of the so-called 'transitional zone' area located between Rancho Rio Vista and the Carmel Hills tract.

While there was no dissenting Carmel voice heard, there was one surprisingly muted one—that of Keith Evans, former Carmel mayor, and now a member of the County Planning Commission, who only indicated, as did Commission Chairman Don Colegrove, that Carmel's hue-and-cry for a one-acre minimum in the affected area was substantially irrelevant, because of a resolution (No. 2756) passed last April by the Commission reducing building site minimums on a variable basis even to a level below a quarter acre in some cases.

The large delegation from Carmel wanted no part of the Evans-stated thesis that the time for standing by the one-acre-minimum idea, was now past. In fact, Herbert Blanks, Carmel City Planning Commission member, pointedly remarked that, to his knowledge, the

First Move To Put Right To Work On Ballot

The Carmel Right to Work Committee took first steps today to give the Carmel citizens an opportunity to vote on a right to work ordinance for the city in the April 8 municipal election.

On page 21 of this issue of The Pine Cone the committee gives legal notice that petitions will be circulated for "an initiative ordinance to guarantee the right to work."

School Board Will Approve Annexation If It Is Popular

The Carmel School board went on record Tuesday night as willing to accept the two Carmel Valley School Districts for annexation to the Carmel district, provided "there is a substantial majority vote," in the election to be held in the valley on January 14.

Reason for the proviso—the board does not want a large group of "unfriendly" people in the district, which would be the case if the annexation proposition just skinned through at the polls.

Mrs. Julian von Meier made the motion, which was seconded by Glenn Leidig.

There were a number of valley people in the audience but when Board Chairman Gordon Campbell called for comments from the audience, nothing happened.

The rest of the meeting was concerned with financial matters.

Raymond Gere, high school English teacher, and chairman of the (Continued on page Twenty-two)

The proposed initiative ordinance is based on the Tehama County Right to Work Ordinance, with modifications to fit the city. The Tehama County Ordinance, appealed by the labor unions, has been upheld in superior court.

The ordinance bans closed shop (compulsory union membership) and strikes and picketing to force union membership on employees or union contracts on employers. It provides for civil redress and injunctive relief in case of violation.

The petitions will be circulated by precinct workers after 21 days, and will be presented to the city council at the February meeting. If the petitions contain signatures of 10 percent of the registered voters, the council must place the issue on the ballot in the next city election, if they do not themselves choose to act favorably on the ordinance.

Captain H. M. Gleason, Chairman of the Right to Work Committee, says only 285 signatures are needed but, "We'll go for 500 to have a margin of safety."

A majority vote in the election puts the law in the city ordinance code.

The Right to Work Committee obtained over 1000 signatures on the informal petitions they circulated in September, which asked the council to pass a right to work ordinance for the city. The council, on the advice of City Attorney John Morse, decided to wait the decision on the Palm Springs Right to Work Ordinance which was voided in superior court, and is now in the state fourth appellate district court, with hearing scheduled for January and a decision (Continued on Page Two)

Prizes To Be Given At Sunday Party In Mission Fields

Mission Fields residents are asked to have their outdoor Christmas decorations ready on Saturday for judging by Kippy Stuart, Mrs. Robert Aurner and Supervisor Thomson Jay Hudson. Winners of the ten prizes offered in the contest are to be announced on Sunday evening, at a community Christmas party on the vacant lot at the corner of Oliver Road and Fisher Place. Group carol singing starts at 7:30 o'clock and the party at 8:00. Dr. James Rodda is to be master of ceremonies, Marty Artellan and his accordion will accompany the carol singers, and Santa Claus will arrive to give gifts to all children present.

The Mission Fields Christmas decoration contest and party were arranged by a committee of residents including Dr. H. A. Funk, Mrs. Lou Rudolph, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, Mrs. Jack Jella, Richard Kern, Maynard Petersen and Don Fredericks.

PADRES DROP TRIPLE-HEADER TO MONTEREY

No match for Monterey High's superior speed and shooting ability, Carmel High's three basketball squads were treated to basketball lessons as the Toreadore junior-varsity clipped the Padre reserves, 44 to 34, the Red & Gray lights were clipped, 37 to 30, and Coach Ed Larsh's Monterey varsity ran roughshod over the big Padres, 60 to 36.

With Crabb and Hover doing most of the damage with their brilliant jump shots, Monterey's JV squad jumped into a 12-point lead early in the first quarter and didn't look back the rest of the way. Led by some good outside shooting on the part of Dave Vincent, Jamie Holman, and Ron Hinchcliffe, the Padre jayvees closed the gap to 32-26 in the third period but the talented Monterey squad pulled away in the final quarter. An excellent job of rebounding by John Wilkin gave Carmel an even break on the boards and kept the Padres within hailing distance of the winners.

Carmel's lightweight squad saw its win streak stopped at once as the rangy Toreadore Babes whipped the Little Padres on the boards and at the free throw line. Down 11-1 at the end of the first quarter, the Padrecitos came with a rush in the second period to trail by 18-16 at the rest period. The visitors pulled away to a 9-point spread in the third quarter, hitting 6 for 7 from the free throw line. Led by John Doud's three field goals and two charity tosses, the Little Padres surged again in the last quarter but were no match for the Monterey lads. Pat Boyle, Toby Edson, and David Hansen turned in fine floor games for the Little Padres while the defensive work of Mike Draper, Pete Willcox, and Pete DePetra was outstanding.

Carmel's hard-trying varsity gave away too much speed to the swift Monterey squad and was jolted by a 26-point Toreadore scoring outburst in the third quarter. The first half of this one was fairly even with the lead changing hands several times as neither team could muster a hot shooting streak. However, in the third period, Monterey changed strategy and put on a blistering fast-break attack which led to a 26-point quarter. Sparked by the swift-moving Claude Crabb and the deft-shooting Mel Sory, the Toreadore run and shoot game was one of the best ever seen at the Carmel pavilion. Constantly enjoying two-on-one and three-on-two situations, the baskets came easy for the aggressive Toreadores. Frank Wallace, Dale Dawson, Bill Hicks, and Phil Durbrow carried the scoring load for the Padres but the two-pointers couldn't come fast enough to match the blazing speed turned on by the green-shirted Toreadores.

GONZALES CAGERS AT CARMEL GYM FRIDAY NIGHT
Back in their own league after getting the treatment from Monterey Tuesday night, Carmel High's basketball squads host the speedy Gonzales Spartans this Friday night at 7:00 o'clock. Coach Bud Guterrez, one of the most popular hoop mentors in the area, brings his usual well-coached fast-running team to do battle with Coach Dan Yurkovich's hustling squad. Improving with every outing, the Padres rate a slight edge over the Spartans in height and backboard control but give way to the visitors in the speed department. Both the Padres and Spartans were clipped by Marty Baskin's league-leading Pacific Grove Breakers and the scores were nearly similar. Carmel will go with the usual starting five of Bill Hicks and Phil Durbrow, forwards, Art Wilkerson, center, and the guard spots manned by Frank Wallace and Dale Dawson.

In the 7:00 o'clock preliminary tussle, Carmel's lightweight squad will be after win number two. Victors over Coach Charley Howell's Pacific Grove Babes last week, the Padrecitos would like nothing better than to add the Spartan Babes to their win list.

Council Throws Out Mall; Is Tangled Up in Orange Zone

Zone, they suggested that the council adopt the plan without the orange zone; a plan can always be modified later.

The planning commission also omitted practically everything else in the Livingston Plan that had proved controversial, except the Civic Center in the middle of Ocean Avenue at Junipero, and a modified Mall which would close Ocean Avenue to East-West traffic but would keep the existing North-South streets open to traffic across Ocean Avenue.

"I never did see this Mall idea, and it's no longer practical to get the land there for the civic center," said Mayor John Chitwood. "Let's exclude the Mall and civic center."

Everybody was in such thorough agreement there was no further comment or discussion.

On the other hand, everybody had a different idea about the Orange Zone. Allen Knight said the business district should not be extended since it is now the biggest in the state in proportion to the size of the residence district. Carmel is supposed to be a city of homes. It doesn't make sense to enlarge the business district still further by taking residence district land for a transition zone. The orange zone should be inside the existing business district boundaries as the citizens' committee had recommended, he concluded.

Mayor Chitwood said he was "reluctant to change land values." An orange zone inside the business zone boundaries would lower value of the business property which became transition zone property.

James Buffington said he'd protest any transition zone plan which would make existing motels in non-conforming uses.

Carl Patnude thought an orange zone outside the present business zone might be limited to offices, churches, clubs, and duplex houses.

Everett May thought that it might be better if the council studied Orange Zone later and confined themselves now to study of the plan recommended by the planning commission. He pointed out their need for the Green Belt portion of the plan in their conflicts with the county planning commission.

At no time in the two hours did the council get away from the Orange Zone for more than a few minutes. But during the intervals they informally approved the deletions in the Livingston Plan recommended by the planning commission.

There was little discussion or comment on the deletions except item 8: "That all provision for precise establishment of off-street parking locations within the central district be deleted." Mayor Chitwood observed: "This parking plan never did titillate me a bit." He went on to say that "people will take care of it themselves" and pointed out that since the work first began on the plan, the Walt Pilot Market had been built to provide parking; Barnet Segal had made a parking lot next to his new building for his own customers and also to provide rental parking; Putnam and Raggett and Kip's were sharing in the rent of a lot to provide parking for their customers.

The council went home with copies of the Livingston Plan under arm to read it over and see what is left after the planning commission's amputations.

Mostly what is left is the Green Belt, and the population density and commercial use provisions for the unincorporated area; also, Sunset school for a future community center, and Junipero Street North of Eighth Avenue a major thoroughfare; and a change of C-2 boundaries within the existing business zone boundaries.

There will be another study session and before the council can adopt the plan it must hold a public hearing.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday.

Luke's account of the birth of Jesus will be included in the Scriptural readings. Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (315:21-24): "Jesus' spiritual origin and understanding enabled him to demonstrate the facts of being, to prove irrefutably how spiritual Truth destroys material error, heals sickness, and overcomes death."

The Golden Text is from Amos (4:13): "He that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name."

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra's second pair of concerts of this season not only stepped up its achievements but, being able Monday to use the new King Hall of the Naval School—an attractive auditorium seating approximately 1000—through the courtesy of Rear Admiral Stone's and the Naval Staff's generous co-operation, attracted a larger audience. Ticket sales and interest in our Symphony Orchestra have increased steadily since Gregory Millar was secured as conductor, now in his fourth year. His musicianship and inspiration are making the orchestra an instrument of always growing capacity, and although there is a constantly changing personnel, he schools it out to success with comparatively few rehearsals. It is surprising how adequate performance emerges in the complications of symphonic playing and accompanying soloists, always a test of any orchestra. The audiences at King Hall and the previous evening at Salinas were quick to realize and respond to the heightened accomplishment. Keen enthusiasm was raised by the exceptionally fine playing of William Masselos, the young pianist who won the National Federation of Music Club's prize and has marched far ahead in fame for his years. Chopin's second concerto revealed his innate musical temperament and a dexterity that allows for a full scope of impassioned expression and beauty of tone. As far as playing with orchestra makes possible, he "sang" the melodies in truly Chopinesque manner, so rarely heard today or even understood. Indeed, one cannot think of any other pianists since Paderewski and Pachman who so enter the realm of the "piano bard's" poetry and sensitiveness. He might almost be an incarnation of Chopin himself with his slight form and charm of manner! Little wonder then that he held the audience enthralled with his masterly insight into the architecture of the (Continued on Page Seventeen)

BACK FROM SOUTH

Evelyn Young of the House of Flaire returned last week from Los Angeles where she bought stock for her shop at the Spring Millinery Show at the Biltmore Hotel.

"Hats this spring will be tri-corne in shape with lots of flowers and color," she reports.

Also while in the South, Mrs. Young saw her former business partner, Gloria Akin, who is now appearing on TV in commercials for Kayser Aluminum and Clorox and has a part in productions of Schlitz Playhouse.

The Gonzales lights dropped a close decision to Pacific Grove in their league-opener two weeks ago but hold decisions over Atascadero and Palma. The Carmel Babes will go with platoon units of Toby Edson, Ron Faia, Mike Dunham, Mike Draper, and Pete Osborne in the first platoon. Starting for the second platoon will be Russ Wise, David Farr, John Doud, Walt Helm, and Pete Willcox. The third platoon will be manned by Pete DePetra, Larry Dufur, Pat Boyle, David Hansen, and Phil O'Shea.

Friday night's games with Gonzales wraps up prep basketball until after the Christmas vacation period. Since league edict prohibits hoop practice during the holidays, a long rest is in store for the Carmel High cagers.

GOLD FOOTBALLS FOR UNDEFEATED CARMEL HIGH

At last Monday's awards assembly 33 members of Carmel High's undefeated varsity football team received their block awards and were also the recipients of miniature gold footballs donated by the sports-conscious Carmel Lions Club. Carmel's undefeated junior-varsity team was rewarded with block letters to climax a near-perfect season.

Varsity players winning a letter were Dare Conroy, Co-captain Andy Gray, Tim O'Shea, Jim Lee, Gary Bradburn, Cim Conway, Neil Giarratana, Rodney Phillips, Ted Smith, Malcolm Burdis, Phil White, Norman Colman, Alf Anderson, John Morse, Tony Bingham, Sam Farr, Mike Raggett, George Blanks, Art Wilkerson, Steve Ganin, Pat Harney, Co-captain Joe Mason, Dennis Peavey, Robin Way, Bob Goldwater, Bill Hicks, Phil Durbrow, Hal Gregerson, David Vincent, Parker Pollock, Fred Nelson, Alan Eaker, and managers Bob Kimball, Jim Aitken, and Sam Anderson.

Tim Smith, Jim Cole, David Farr, and manager Bert Blanks.

Special varsity award winners were Ted Smith, All-CCAL quarterback, who was voted the Most Valuable Player for the '57 season. Parker Pollock, senior center, was honored with the Kiwanis Club trophy which is awarded for Team Play and Cooperation. The Silva Sportsmanship award was given to Andy Gray, an All-CCAL halfback, who was also co-captain of the varsity squad.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Lots of basketball action at the Mission where Jack Giles holds forth as coach and league organizer. At the present time there are 13 teams playing in two divisions with the 7th and 8th grades combined for one division and the 5th and 6th grades making up the other. Captains for the upper division teams are Paul Gockel, George Pollock, Mike Ross, Jack Zantino, Terry Tweedy, and Bill Muscutt. The teams of captains Gockel, Pollock, and Ross are currently tied for the top spot with 3-1 records. Leading the second division clubs are captains Alan Marshall, Mike Montgomery, Tom Smizek, and Mike O'Donnell. Alan Marshall's squad with a 3-0 record is the division leader.

Under the capable direction of Henry Overin, the Annual Christmas Vacation Hoop Tourney will be staged at the Carmel High gym during the week of December 23-30. This tourney brings together the alumni teams manned by former Padre greats. Some of the performers squeak a little as they move about the court but everyone has a good time in this hoop-fest.

Carmel High's action in the Gustine Invitational Tournament was short but close with the Padres losing by two points in their first two games. A tall La Grande squad nipped the Padres in the tourney opener and a fast-breaking Hilmer unit edged Coach Yurkovich's lads, 51-49 in the second day's play. The Padres salvaged a bit of glory from the tournament as Dale Dawson, junior guard, won a spot on the All-Tournament team. Dale averaged better than 22 points in tournament play and was an outstanding team leader. Dale follows in the illustrious footsteps of brother Charles who made the All-Tournament team last season.

Top basketball attraction for this area would be a game between Monterey High and Junipero Serra High. These two classy teams are not scheduled for regular season play but they might hook up in the Carmel Tournament which is set for March 6-8. Junipero has been whipping everything in sight this season and might be the best prep team in the area.

Schultz Finally Have Acceptable Plans For Motel

Charles and Dorothy Schultz have a building permit for the motel they propose to build on the former Bettie Greene stables property at Junipero and Fifth Streets. The plans call for 18 units, 16 parking stalls, with 15,079 square feet of landscaping screening blacktop parking areas from public view and developed with "planting islands" for trees and shrubs.

It met with Carmel Planning Commission approval last week and James Pruitt, representing the owners, received permission to start building within 180 days. This was the end of a year and a half discussion between Mr. and Mrs. Schultz and the commission as to how the property should be developed.

The Commission publicly praised plans of architects Thomas S. Elston, William L. Cranston and Paul Bosholm for Gil Hix' eight unit cottage type, garden apartment development of the former Comstock property on San Carlos and Fourth Streets. A building permit will be authorized by the commission after architectural plans have been received and checked. Land use and individual off-street parking stalls met with commission favor.

Emma D. Egan may build a garage up to her property line due to the steep slope of her property at Monte Verde and Fourth Streets. Mayor John Chitwood, Mrs. Egan's next door neighbor, told the commission, "she is in a terrible predicament due to drainage problems and is entitled to a variance."

Earl Pierce was denied a variance to construct a garage nearer than 15 feet to his line on Carpenter Street.

Ray F. Barney was given land use approval for a motel at San Carlos and Fifth Streets, and the Planning Commission authorized alterations and additions to buildings owned by Keith Evans, A. Victor, and R. F. Talbot. They approved use of the inner court of La Rambla building on Lincoln Street to be used as a nursery and florist shop by Josephine M. Baker.

FROM A
LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

The staff of the library wishes all of you a most merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year!

Speaking of the new year, brings us to some sad news for a few of you. The news is that beginning January, first, the cost of a fee card for out-of-town borrowers will be raised to seven dollars. Back in the good old days, meaning 1957, it was a mere five dollars. This raise in price might have made a good argument for annexation of Carmel Unincorporated, because if you live inside the city limits you pay no fee. The Monterey Public Library is also raising its charge to seven dollars, and the Pacific Grove Library is raising to five. This is being done to more closely relate fees charged out-of-town borrowers to taxes paid toward library upkeep by in-town residents. If you are a fee card holder, and you object to paying this small added amount for the service you get here, please don't scream like a panther to the people at the loan desk. They had nothing to do with the raise. Come downstairs to my office and scream at me. I had nothing to do with raising the fees either, but I'm tougher.

In case anyone is interested in books, we have the new biography of Jeb Stuart by Burke Davis. It's called Jeb Stuart, the Last Cavalier. His full name was James E. B. Stuart, and that is where the Jeb originated. This is a fast moving story of a fast moving man.

Barnaby Conrad has another book on bull fighting and the matadors of the world. It is entitled Gates of Fear, and in it are described nineteen bull rings and the famous matadors who fought there.

Samuel Dickson has written three good books about San Francisco which have recently been bound together under the title Tales of San Francisco. The individual titles are San Francisco Is Your Home, San Francisco Kaleidoscope, and The Streets of San Francisco. It's good to get all three under one title. The reader has a chance to enjoy all of them at one fell swoop.

An interesting article in the Sunday supplement of the Chronicle gave as a reason for juvenile delinquency, the fact that the fathers of the families have given up their former position as heads of the household. We have a new book entitled Delinquency, Sickness or Sin? by Richard V. McCann. The author is connected with Harvard Divinity School.

Love Among the Cannibals is the latest novel from Wright Morris. It is a fast-paced story of a team of song writers. The latest fiction from Paul Gallico is entitled Thomasina, the Cat Who Thought She Was God. The scene is laid in Scotland and there is said to be much spirit lifting philosophy woven through the telling of the story.

We should mention Ludwig Bemelmans' book The Woman in My Life. The scene is Paris, the character a man who has searched long for the perfect love. There is always magic when Bemelmans writes.

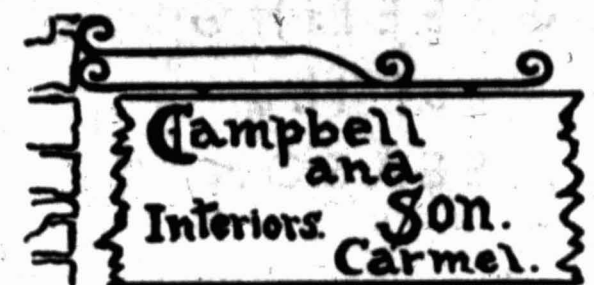

When the last Christmas festivity has ended and you can once again think of reading, come to the library for one of these. You'll like them.

Kusters Due Home Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuster are arriving here tonight after over a year of travelling in Europe. Mrs. Kuster has given her impressions of their journeys in England, France and Spain, in Gay's Diary, published in the Pine Cone. Their daughter Marcia is remaining abroad to study in England.

The Kusters will meet their two months old grandson, Scott, for the first time tonight. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Kuster, he is now living in town at San Carlos and Eighth Streets. Previously the younger Kusters were occupying Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuster's home in Carmel Valley.

That Was Walt Pilot On TV

Carmelites watching Channel Five on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock were surprised to see Walt Pilot dancing the samba as Monterey Peninsula gold medal winner at the Arthur Murray medal presentation ball. His partner was Dorothy Breeding of Carmel. Walt passed 3 studio tests here and another in San Francisco to win the honor of appearing on the television show.

Grace Brueck Married Friday

Grace Brueck, daughter of Mrs. Marian B. Brueck, was married to Albert C. Houghton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Houghton of Carmel Highlands, on Friday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock by Judge Ray Baugh in his Monterey chambers. The young couple returned to Carmel yesterday after a honeymoon in San Francisco and will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Houghton until after Christmas. Then they will live in San Francisco where the groom is continuing his radio engineering career.

For her wedding, the bride wore a light blue wool dressmaker suit and a gardenia corsage. She was given in marriage by Charles Thomas and best man for the groom was Ted Cross. A wedding breakfast for the immediate families of the bride and groom, and family friends who had attended the wedding, was given at Mark Thomas Inn immediately after the ceremony.

Mary Martha Myers Arrives

Mary Martha Myers weighed six pounds, three ounces, when she was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on December 12. She is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers whose older child, Eric, is one and a half.

The Myers came to Carmel two years ago. Mr. Myers is a psychologist with the U. S. Army Leadership Human Research Unit at the Presidio. Mary's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Budde of Mount Union, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Myers of Santa Ana.

Dr. and Mrs. Stilwell Coming

Weekend guests of Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell will be her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Stilwell of Hermosa Beach. Unable to leave resident pathologist duties at Harbor General Hospital in Torrance next week, Dr. Stilwell decided to come tomorrow for an early Christmas visit with his mother.

Christmas In Carmel Churches Starts Sunday

Christmas observances in Carmel churches start this Sunday when special services will be held in All Saints' Episcopal Church, The Church of the Wayfarer and Carmel Presbyterian Church.

On Christmas Eve Solemn High Mass will be sung in historic Carmel Mission. At All Saints' Church a musical program will precede Holy Communion on Christmas Eve and at the Church of the Wayfarer carol singing in the church garden will herald the Christmas Eve Service of Carols and Candles.

Masses will be celebrated at the Mission on Christmas Day with services also planned at All Saints' Church and the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Solemn High Mass, sung by the adult choir, will be celebrated at midnight on Christmas Eve in Carmel Mission.

Christmas morning low masses will be celebrated at 7:00 and 8:00 o'clock with a High Mass, sung by the children's choir at 9:30 o'clock. Low masses will again be celebrated at 11:00 and 12:30 o'clock.

Christmas observances at All Saints' Episcopal Church start on Sunday, the fourth Sunday in Advent, with Holy Communion service at 8:00 o'clock. At 9:30 o'clock the Family Service will be held followed by a Christmas party when coffee will be served to adults while Santa Claus brings candy for the children. Morning prayer and sermon will be next at 11:00 o'clock.

On Christmas Eve at 11:00 o'clock in the evening there will be Holy Communion service with preludial music and sermon by the rector, the Reverend Angus Dun Jr. Music will be Handel's organ concerto in D Flat major; and singing of a medieval plainsong, Iste Confessor; Praetorius' A Shepherd Band; and carols Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones, Sing Ye Noel, As Lately We Watched and Greensleeves by the choir.

Christmas Day the Rector will preach at the Holy Communion Service at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

Five choruses from Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" will be sung by the Chapel Singers at the Church of the Wayfarer at Christmas Sunday Services at 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock. This group, under the direction of John W. Farr, will sing And the Glory, For Unto Us a Child Is Born, Glory to God, Behold the Lamb of God, and the Hallelujah Chorus.

Connell K. Carruth will be at the pipe organ and her selections will include Bach's Break Forth, O Beateous Light, Adoration by Purvis, Deupre's In Quiet Joy, and William Carruth's Cradle Song.

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray will conduct the services.

At 4:00 o'clock on Tuesday a Christmas Eve Communion Service will be held, conducted by Dr. Gray, assisted by Dr. E. Leigh Mudge, the Rev. Charles H. Burrill, and Dr. Fred L. Farley. Miss Zeala Wright will be the soprano soloist, singing Pietro Yon's Jesu Bambino and Russian Lullaby by Prokofiev, with Mrs. Carruth at the organ.

Carols in the church garden will herald the Christmas Eve Service of Carols and Candles at 11:00 o'clock on Tuesday evening. These will be sung by the Chapel Singers under the direction of Helen K. Peterson. Later, during the service in the chapel they will be heard in Rise Up Early by Kountz, and the Scottish Carol, arranged by Purvis, What Strangers Are These? Ruth Kightly, soprano, will sing Cantique de Noel by Adams. The service, in which the congregation will sing many of the carols will be conducted by Dr.

Gray, who will read the Christmas story The Miracle at Midnight by Camilla R. Bittle.

Christmas Sunday, December 22, will be celebrated with identical services at 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock at The Carmel Presbyterian Church. The Reverend Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, minister, will preach on the sermon subject: Before and After. The music will include the following numbers by Fred G. Lewis, organist: Prelude: In Bethlehem's Town by Carl Mueller; Offertory: Gesu, Bambino by Pietro Yon; Postlude: Hallelujah Chorus from The Messiah by G. F. Handel.

Mrs. Pamela McFayden, soloist, will sing What Child Is This? a sixteenth century English melody, and He Shall Feed His Flocks from The Messiah by Handel.

There will be a nursery for the care of infants and small children.

On Christmas morning at 10:00 o'clock, there will be a short service of prayer and praise in the sanctuary of The Carmel Presbyterian Church, with Dr. Ewing conducting the service, and with music by the soloist, Mrs. McFayden and the organist, Mr. Lewis.

McKENNEY, VON MEIER XMAS

When the big Constellation resort liner of Trans-Ocean Air lines flew to Hawaii on Monday, happy travellers aboard were Mr. and Mrs. A. Carol McKenney, Jr. (Kathie von Meier), and their three children; Erin, Carol and Gael. Carol is a flight inspector for Trans-Ocean, and they make their home in San Leandro. The McKenneys plan to stay at the Islander Hotel; have Christmas dinner at the Royal Hawaiian; tour the other islands; see Mauna Loa; and visit old family friends.

Meanwhile Dr. and Mrs. Carol McKenney are having a gay time touring the continent in the red Jaguar they purchased in London, and will probably return to Carmel late in January. With them on their travels are Mrs. McKenney's daughters, Gray, Robin and Wendy Burnham.

Not to be outdone by their relatives, the stay-at-home Carmelites Mrs. Julian von Meier and her younger daughter, Karen Silvear, with her two children, Brian and Adrienne, will be joined by Kurt von Meier for a "journey" to the Hillsborough home of Mrs. von Meier's brother, C. D. Leigh, where they will celebrate Christmas.

Capt. Creighton

Captain John Marie Creighton, U.S. Navy (ret.) died on Sunday in his home at Ocean Avenue and Hatton Road after an illness of several months. He was born on August 15, 1891, in Leavenworth, Kansas.

Captain Creighton graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1914, and had a distinguished naval career before he was retired 13 years ago.

For many years he was a naval attache in the Far East and just prior to World War II, was decorated by the British government and made an Officer of the British Empire for his outstanding service in Singapore.

Captain Creighton also served as intelligence officer on the staff of the U.S.S. Augusta, flagship of the U. S. Asiatic Fleet, under the command of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, prior to World War II, and during the war was a naval attache in Singapore and China.

After the war Captain Creighton served in the office of Naval Intelligence and in the office of the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, D. C. He was also a veteran of World War I, and his early career was in submarines.

Captain Creighton moved to Carmel several months ago with his wife, Frances, who survives him.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to commemorate Captain Creighton are requested to do so in the form of contributions to the California Institute for Cancer Research at the University of California at Los Angeles or to the Children's Hospital, Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Harry Nelle

Harry Willard Nelle died on December 11 in a local hospital after a period of failing health.

Mr. Nelle was born in Oakland on October 2, 1876. He was a construction engineer before his retirement and a member of Oakland Lodge 188, F & AM for 51 years. Seven years ago he came to live in Pebble Beach with his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Lusignan.

Besides Mrs. Lusignan, he is survived by two sisters, Miss Louise Nelle and Mrs. Fred Brown, both of Santa Rosa; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon in the Gothic Chapel of Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland, with Oakland Lodge 188, F & AM officiating at the rites and burial which followed. Mission Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

Mrs. Bartholomew

Mrs. Helen Russell Bartholomew died on December 10 in a local hospital after a short illness.

She was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on December 11, 1890.

Two months ago, with her husband Marshall Bartholomew, she came to Carmel from New Haven, Connecticut, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Barbara C. Tripp of Carmel.

In addition to her husband and daughter in Carmel, Mrs. Bartholomew is survived by a son, Steven Charles Bartholomew of Seattle, Washington.

Private funeral services were held on December 11 in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Memorial services and inurnment took place in Rosedale Cemetery, Orange, New Jersey.

Paul Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

Margaret Graves

Mrs. Margaret Louise Graves died on December 12 in a local hospital after a brief illness.

Mrs. Graves was born in Seneca, Illinois, on December 29, 1872. She was a resident of Santa Cruz for many years then moved to Oakland. Three years ago she came to Carmel to live with her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Cox. Her husband, Russell C. Graves died in 1924.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Cox, are two sisters, Mrs. Loretta Coughlin of Rock Island, Illinois, and Mrs. Nell Barnhart of Santa Ana; two grandchildren, Cynthia and Graves Cox of Carmel; and several nieces and nephews.

Private Requiem Mass was celebrated on Saturday morning in Carmel Mission followed by burial in the family plot in Santa Cruz Cemetery. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Otto Bahl

Otto William Bahl died on December 12 in his home on Santa Fe Street between First and Second Avenues.

Mr. Bahl was born on March 19, 1886, in Indianapolis, Indiana. He was a commercial artist in Tennessee before moving to Carmel seven years ago. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Alice F. Bahl of Carmel; two sisters, Miss Rose Bahl and Mrs. Amelia Sweeney; a nephew, Paul Sweeney; and a niece, Mrs. Barbara Pomp; all of Elgin, Illinois.

Private funeral services were held on December 13 in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
C. Edward Graves,
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

COMMERCIALISM AND THE NATIONAL PARKS

A handsome brochure of 37 pages with color photographs on both front and back covers has just been released by the National Park Service. Its publication was made possible by a donation from an anonymous friend of the Service. Its title is "The National Park Wilderness."

There are 16 full-page plates, 8x11 inches in size, with running captions intended to express the poetry of wilderness. The remaining 21 pages are devoted to statements on the concepts of wilderness and the policy of the National Park Service in protecting and administering the wilderness portions of the parks.

The brochure is well planned and the author, Howard R. Stagner, has clearly devoted very careful study to the meaning of wilderness and its benefits to the human race. Many quotations could be used to illustrate this point, if this column were being written on the philosophic aspects of wilderness.

On page 27 he remarks: "To understand and appreciate wilderness is the first step in its preservation." There is no question about the rightness of this statement. To many people wilderness is a place of horrors where wild beasts and venomous serpents lie in wait and where travelers experience nothing but extreme discomfort. These people need to be taken on some of the national park trails out of the smell of exhaust fumes and away from the noise of motors where they will find just the opposite of their misconceptions.

The key to wilderness appreciation is the trail system of the national parks. The enemy of wilderness appreciation is the fast paved highway, constructed on standards of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The Sierra Club, interested in preserving as nearly as possible the wilderness character of the Sierra Nevada, has studied this question very carefully over the years. In 1949 the club issued a statement of desirable standards for roads within national parks and again in 1953 it adopted a more complete declaration of policy.

This statement calls for roads constructed for a 20 m.p.h. speed in mountain type country, with maximum curvatures of a 100-foot radius where light traffic is involved, gradients up to 14 percent and maximum width of pavement plus shoulders of 18 feet. Wilderness values will be protected somewhat by this type of road construction, though roads should always be subordinated to trails in high mountain country.

On the new Tioga road in Yosemite National Park, which is certainly in mountain country, these standards have been grossly violated. Width of pavement plus shoulders is 26 feet, which will encourage 70 m.p.h. speeds, and gradients and curvatures are far from agreeing with Sierra Club standards.

The pressure of commercialism from outside the national parks is in my opinion responsible for what has happened. Other national parks are being endangered from the same cause. On page 23 Mr. Stagner writes: "Wilderness is the significant resource of such areas. Every person who visits such areas is entitled to and should have a wilderness experience."

How can this happen, when the national parks are being cut up by roads of this kind? The beautiful brochure on wilderness should perhaps be entitled "The National Park Windshield Wilderness."

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Last Friday morning Robin Way went home from school because he didn't feel well. His mother, Mrs. Eric Berne, immediately sent him to a doctor and next thing she knew Robin was scheduled for an emergency appendectomy in the Peninsula Community Hospital and he didn't get back home again until Tuesday. Now Robin, remarkably recovered, is enjoying a week's rest and extra vacation from senior studies at Carmel High School.

Marcus Novel On Peninsula People To Be Filmed Here

(Continued from Page Three) eventually landed in Hollywood as a contract writer with M.G.M. where he met his beautiful wife, Lotte, who was working as a legal secretary on the same lot.

Married in 1951, Alan and Lotte Marcus first came to the Peninsula in 1955 for a vacation of six weeks and stayed for a year. They liked it so well that they returned this August, with their three year old daughter, Naomi Beth, and have purchased the Martha Minshall house in the Carmel Highlands.

"I love the Highlands", Marcus said, "It reminds me of the Cornish coast". They both like the silence, solitude, and majesty of the entire coastal area and hope to spend a lifetime here raising numerous children. Currently they are expecting another baby.

Alan Marcus writes slowly. He is seriously interested in the novel as an art form and feels rather violently on the subject of people who talk about the death throes of the novel. "Everyone cries havoc over the death knell of the novel", Marcus says, "But it stubbornly gets up and walks and refuses to die".

"The novel hasn't died", he continued, "because man is still walking around, and nothing else reflects his condition as well or in such a prolix. I believe in the care and feeding of and the abettment of the novel."

But Marcus feels that only by an intolerable effort of will can the novel succeed when the writer ceases to write of himself. All too few have succeeded, he feels. "But we have some good novelists. We have Faulkner whose body of work contains a sustained body of life; a thick density of texture which most novelists in America don't have."

He also admires Compton Burnett and Henry Green whom he feels are tending towards "the pure novel, the novel without ballast".

"Only what cannot be named can be said to be created", Marcus went on. "A novel is many things. It is not a yarn — although it may be that. It is an exploratory voyage which man makes within himself. It is not a gargling noise using language. A good book leaves reverberations like a good painting. It is a distillation."

Although the novel, he feels, has been lowered by misuse or careless use, he feels that it is a way to say something that can be said in no other way; and that it is "perhaps a means of self defense or protection, going towards greater and greater precision. This is not always true, however. Sometimes a great novelist comes along and throws it all off the board".

"A novel is one of the things that is easiest to babble at and the hardest in which to achieve something of large and profound stature".

Something happens in the way of relating things and changing perspective in the reading of a novel, too, he points out. It forces one to sit down and read, to think and to relate. He quotes E. M. Forster's Aspects of the Novel on this. He also feels, with Priestly, that "one can't be a doer and a seer at the same time. The thing can only be done in solitude".

Alan Marcus spent five months.

in Israel in 1950 living as an Israeli shepherd on a collective farm on assignment for M.G.M. The idea was to make a documentary film. This was on the Syrian border. "I got shot at and came home with a tropical disease", he commented.

It was after his return to Hollywood that he met Lotte, a refugee from Vienna who had spent the war years in a Japanese internment camp in Shanghai. Lotte, who is very beautiful indeed and has a madonna-like face, was only twenty when she came to the United States ten years ago.

Alan and Lotte Marcus are leaving shortly for Hollywood to close up their house there and will return to the Highlands in March when they will move into the Minshall house which is being extensively renovated. Currently Marcus is working on a collection of novels as well as on the screen play for Stoumen.

Music On Peninsula ...

work and its intricate climaxes that towered with brilliancy and tonal power in the beauty that Chopin's compositions never failed to give forth in artistic balance. It was a memorable performance anywhere, and Millar who guided the orchestra through the successfully modulated background and interludes was clearly pleased with Masselos, and gave him, along with the audience and orchestra members (lead by Concertmaster Mazzi) a rousing and prolonged applause.

The Tchaikowsky 5th Symphony with its somber "fate" sounds and triumphant finale seems particularly to suit Gregory Millar. He conducts it without score and gave us another memorable performance as second half of the program, extracting from the orchestra variety, balance and fading-away moments that all spell growing capacity of the ensemble. The horn part by Joseph Axup stood out in beauty of tone and concept as well as parts by other players, including the strings. Millar's interpretation of the work is impassioned and enthralling throughout for which he and the orchestra received a strong ovation. Paul Creston's Dance Overture opened the program. It is a work in modern dissonance, rugged professed "abstract" treatment that in the last part suggests an uncontrolled wild movement. It made a good opening and foil to the purer music that followed. It is to be hoped King Hall will be available again. Its acoustics, visibility and color are good, with comfortable seating rising gradually to the back, and the entrance hall adequate for intermission visiting crowds. Everyone left the auditorium expressing keen enjoyment of this concert. Needing an additional $2500 to cover this year's operating it is hoped this will be forthcoming in various new memberships, the status of which was given out with the program thanking the public for its support so far.

In the Music Room of the High School a talk on the program by Mr. Millar was arranged by the Symphony Guild and presented by Mrs. Burton Doolittle, the president. A number of the High School students attended besides others, the students being given some surplus tickets for the concert and heard William Masselos play excerpts from the Chopin Concerto. These pre-symphony talks, with recordings, are much assistance in comprehending the program.

Benjamin Britten's cantata, The Legends of St. Nicholas, received its San Francisco premiere performance recently from The Little Symphony and the Choir of St. Luke's Church, with Gregory Millar in the leading role. Prevented from going to the City as intended, I listened to it over the radio. Despite its vivid and varied dramatic sense, Britten's music has not often intrigued me, but this Cantata stands out as an impressive interpretation in the legendary events in the life of a great and good man, which the composer has pictured in tone-colors that leave a clear impression. Nicholas was effectively sung by Millar, ably supported by the choir and Little Symphony. Since the Cantata was broadcast at short notice, many regrettably did not hear it.

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's opening performance conducted by Enrique Jorda, proved to be the most successful on record. This season's schedule includes among its soloists, Menuhin, Serkin, Stern, Piatigorsky, Brailowsky, Segovia and Clara Haskill; Stravinsky, Walter and Virgil Thompson as visiting conductors, and Bay Area artists Naoum Blinder, Robert Mueller and Putnam Aldrich. It should be noted that the Saturday evening concerts have been switched to Thursdays with the student Thursdays switched to Wednesdays. The Friday afternoons remain. Four events of special Saturday night "pops" will be directed by Kostelanetz.

Grant And Lisa Johnson Born

"I wonder how I ever got along without them, they're such fun," says Mrs. Charles Johnson (Barbara May) of her "Christmas present" twins born on December 8 in the Peninsula Community Hospital. The twins are named Grant Studebaker and Lisa Whitten. They have two older sisters, Cynthia, almost five, and Kathryn, who will be four years old in March. Mrs. Johnson came here from Louisville, Kentucky, to stay with her parents, Colonel and Mrs. Thomas E. May, two months ago when her husband was sent by the British American Tobacco Company to Guatemala City. She and the children plan to join Mr. Johnson in Guatemala in February or March.

City Councilman Thomas E. May Jr. is the twins' uncle and their paternal grandmother is Mrs. Prevost Boyce of Mountain Lake, Florida.

Move From Highlands

Mrs. Martha Minshall and her four sons, Tim, Philip and Michael O'Shea and Greg Minshall have moved from Carmel Highlands to Lincoln Street between Twelfth and Thirteenth Avenues. Their home in the Highlands will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Alan Marcus.

Gates Come From Seattle

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gates of Seattle, with their son Skip and daughter Sandra, arrived in Carmel on Monday and plan to stay for several months.

Bowhays Leave Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bowhay leave on Monday for Menlo Park where they will spend Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howells and their four granddaughters, Stephanie, twins Kathy and Cindy, and Debbie.

Conceptions "All Delighted"

Dan G. Concepcion Jr., born on December 4, is the first son and fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Dan G. Concepcion, Sr., and brother to Angelita, 14; Lolita, 11; and Carmelita, nine years old.

"We are all delighted to have a little boy in the family," says Mrs. Concepcion, mother of Dan, Jr., who weighed seven pounds, 13 ounces when he arrived at the Peninsula Community Hospital.

McCraes Revive Carmel Custom

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCrae, owners of Tally Ho Inn at the corner of Monte Verde Street and Sixth Avenue, have decorated the Inn with the Christmas scene which always shone for Carmelites when James Hatlo had the property for his home. Lights were lit on Tuesday night and the McCraes dedicated the scene to Mr. Hatlo, now a Pebble Beach resident.

Two Events For Karl

On Saturday Dr. Friedy Heisler and Mr. Francis Heisler were in San Francisco for the first birthday of their grandson, Karl, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Heisler. Also present at Karl's birthday party were his other grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Dohrman K. Pischel.

On Christmas Eve, Karl, with his parents, will come to Carmel for Santa Claus to visit him at his grandparents home in Carmel Highlands, and remain here until Sunday.

Mrs. Williams Home From Europe

Mrs. Laidlaw Williams drove into Carmel on Monday afternoon and that evening was an enthusiastic member of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra audience, "they are better than the Venice symphony," she exclaimed, and of Chopin soloist William Masselos Mrs. Williams remarked, "I heard a pianist abroad reputed to be one of the best younger players in Europe and he didn't compare to Masselos tonight."

Mrs. Williams left Carmel in June and spent the summer in Baddeck, Nova Scotia before sailing in October, with her daughter Alice, for Europe. Alice is now at school in Switzerland and her mother is finding out all that has happened in Carmel since she left six months ago.

DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

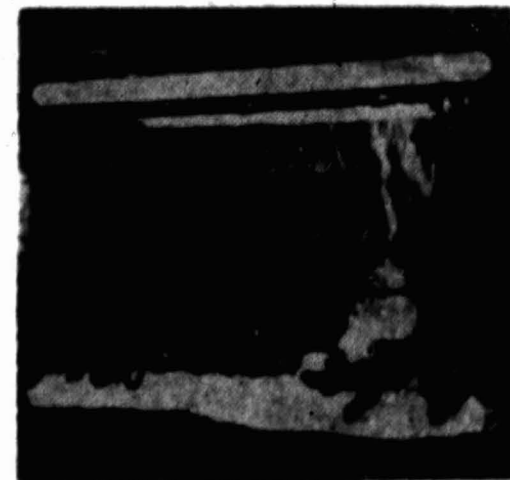

Every so often I'll pick up a newspaper and read how telephone people have helped save a life somewhere. First aid instruction (above) deserves a lot of credit for this. For years we've been teaching our people first aid. Special courses like this are a part of their telephone training, under our continuing Safety Program. Our people have found that the safety methods they learned on their telephone jobs have proved mighty helpful when away from work. We think it makes good sense to have everyone well-trained in case of emergencies. Everybody's better off that way.

Looking for a Christmas gift idea that's both original and practical? Then give extension telephones — in color. Whether you're shopping for Mother, Father, Son, Daughter, Grandpa or Grandma, here's a gift that'll ring the bell all year long. And color phones not only give convenience and pleasure; they add a touch of beauty to any room. Shopping's easy, too. Just call your telephone business office.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The employees of the Pacific Telephone on the Monterey Peninsula wish you good health and happiness during this holiday season.

Christmas Parties

In houses fragrant with the smell of greens and gay with many colored lights, red berries, mistletoe, Christmas decorations and sparkling garlanded trees, Carmel hosts and hostesses are entertaining their friends with holiday cheer while clubs and organizations are gathering members and their guests for Yuletide parties this week and next.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hans von Richter on Sunday afternoon will be members of the German department of the Army Language School and their wives, who will be served hot punch and traditional German cookies. Mr. von Richter is chairman of the department.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stewart entertained at an open house for local Democrats on Sunday evening in their Carmel Highlands home. Among those seen chatting during the evening were Carmelites Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferrante, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Wurzmann, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Senator Fred Farr, Francis Heisler, Dr. Friedy Heisler, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Doner, Mrs. Valentine Miller, Dr. Russell Williams, Mrs. Marie Short, Jake Kenny, Frank Lloyd, Laidlaw Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Colburn, Mr. and Mrs. Paco Ferro, Dr. Eric Berne, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Wickham, Mrs. Francis Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. William Arley Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mohler.

The Holly Ball is tomorrow evening when members of the Children's Home Society and their guests dine and dance at Del Monte Lodge in rooms decked with Christmas garlands and children's toys. Preceding the Holly Ball Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKelvey are entertaining at cocktails for members of Little Bits Chapter of the society, while Mother Goose Chapter members have their pre-dance party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reed, and Punch and Judy members meet at the same time for cocktails at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Thompson.

Carmel American Legion Post 512

holiday activities include the annual Forty-Niners Dance held last Saturday evening at the Legion Hall and tomorrow evening, in the Girl Scout House, Santa Claus will distribute presents from a tree to Legion members' children who are twelve years old or under.

Last night the Carmel-by-the-Sea Motel Association had a cocktail party and dinner dance at the Beach Club when 90 members and their friends enjoyed an evening of festivity.

Saturday evening the Musical Art Club is having its annual Yuletide party at the Carmel Woman's Club starting at 8:30 o'clock. The Soldiers Chorus from Fort Ord, directed by Kenneth Wilson, will give a program of lighter Christmas music before refreshments are served and gifts exchanged between members. The Soldiers Chorus was formerly known as the Red Diamond Chorus.

Winter Wonderland is the name of the Christmas dinner dance on Saturday evening in All Saints' Parish Hall being jointly sponsored by the youth groups of the Church of the Wayfarer and All Saints' Episcopal Church. Music for the dancing is to be provided by a combo from Songwriters' Showcase.

On December 12 Mrs. John E. Abernethy entertained 34 ladies at a sherry party in her home on San Antonio Street. Red and white Christmas decorations were used throughout the house and the tree was a manzanita sprayed with silver and adorned with red and white ornaments. During the party two of Mrs. Abernethy's friends, Mrs. Paul Grady and Mrs. Jerry Ryland helped her distribute gifts to the guests. Also assisting her with hostess duties were Mrs. Elmer Booth and Mrs. Harry Smythe.

Vice-principal Miss Dorothy Wright and Miss Marie Illich, with Principal Warren Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, served wassail punch and mulled wine to the staff of Carmel High School on Sunday afternoon in Miss Wright's home decorated with a Christmas tree and garlands of greenery and lights.

Residents of Carmel Highlands gather on December 28 in the Fire House for the annual Highlands Association dinner honoring members of the fire department, with special events planned for children of the community following the dinner.

Co. Planners Appear Unimpressed By Strong Opposition To Knolls

edness in the matter. When James Doud, Rancho Rio Vista subdivider, asked for the names of the people whom Wright Fisher represented, Colegrove said there was no need for Fisher to name his principals since giving out the names "was not pertinent."

When it was suggested that Monterey Peninsula Associates had not owned the Carmel Knolls area long enough to have acquired any long-term vested interest in any particular use of the property, Colegrove quickly and unequivocally pointed out that he himself personally knew, and for a certainty, that the predecessor owners had long held the property for future subdivision purposes, and that therefore now that was its proper use.

Corum Jackson who, with Doud, subdivided the Rio Vista tract, which immediately adjoins the proposed Carmel Knolls on the east, said he believed the Commission had a duty to maintain the one-acre minimum in the area which the Rio Vista development had "blazed the trail ten years ago".

Unlike the Rio Vista tract, the proposed Carmel Knolls subdivision includes a commercial zone. In this connection, Doud asked Fisher, "How long do you think it'll be until you have a motel and a gas station?" Fisher, who had maintained that he and his group had in mind a high-type residential development, said "it might be 10 years". Some Carmel people wondered if it couldn't happen in 10 months, or even 10 weeks.

Roy John, Rio Vista property owner, emphasized his belief that "90% of the people in all the nearby areas are bitterly opposed" to the proposed Knolls development. He wondered if it was not the duty of the Commission to heed the expressed wishes of all the principal organizations in the affected and interested areas.

Commission Chairman Colegrove, however, interjected that there "could be some other valid opinion" in the matter. But John wondered where it was, and who had expressed it, and what organization's view it could be. Colegrove did not elaborate, except to read a Saturday Evening Post editorial which referred to the legal status of zoning matters in another state.

Colegrove, who said he "welcomed full discussion", did not, however, permit it until a motion had been made by Monterey's Joe Thorn, seconded, and carried, to postpone action in the Carmel Knolls matter until January 28.

Speakers heard then, in addition to those already mentioned, were Dudley Swim, president, Carmel Valley Property Owners' Association; Enos Fouratt, president, and Gunnar Norberg, secretary-treasurer, Carmel Taxpayers' Association; Mrs. Thomas McGregor, representing the Carmel Board of Realtors; and Miss Orre Haseltine, long concerned with Carmel Valley planning matters. Also present at the meeting was Capt. Archer M. R. Allen, president, Carmel Unincorporated. Among others in attendance from interested Carmel areas were: J. B. Farior, G. L. Markle, W. S. Tower, William Berlin, Bert Wright, Mrs. E. H. Treat, Paul Jones, and John Stanton.

After Blanks had referred to the lower Carmel Valley area, including the Knolls tract now threatened with small-lot development, as one of unparalleled beauty and demanded its protection with adequate large-lot zoning to protect a "priceless heritage", Swim and Norberg also emphasized the unique and unequalled natural terrain which Carmel earnestly wished to keep unscarred by unwise subdivision activity, such as the proposed Carmel Knolls development.

Purpose of the postponement by the Commission of further consideration of the Knolls matter until January 28 was not the strong disapproval voiced by the many Carmel people attending last Tuesday's meeting, but simply to give Monterey Peninsula Associates time to negotiate with the State Highway Department for purchase of 24 of the 80 Carmel Knolls acres for use in re-routing State Highway No. 1 through Hatton Canyon at some future time.

In connection with the coming January 28 meeting, Commission Chairman Colegrove cautioned that he didn't "want to hear any of the same speeches then" from Carmel people. He would, however, he said, "always like to hear what everybody has to say"—with one proviso, and that was that the speakers must not use "filibuster tricks".

Remarks by those attending last Tuesday's meeting, at the meeting's conclusion, suggested that Colegrove might hear a lot more from even more Carmel people at his Commission's January 28 meeting.

RECEIVES MINOR INJURIES

Paul Flammer, 19, Seventh and Monte Verde Streets, received minor injuries in an accident on the Carmel-Monterey Hill this morning at 12:30 o'clock. Going down the hill, seventh-tenths of a mile from Monterey, Flammer lost control of his car, according to the Highway department report, first hitting the dirt shoulder and then a tree. He was thrown from the car which rolled over. He was not hospitalized as his injuries were minor. The car was considerably damaged.

INITIATIVE ORDINANCE
TO GUARANTEE THE RIGHT TO WORK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that petitions will be circulated, by The Citizens' Committee to Guarantee the Right to Work in Carmel, for signature by registered voters in Carmel.

The proposed Initiative Ordinance reads as follows:

AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT, PROHIBITING DENIAL OF EMPLOYMENT BECAUSE OF MEMBERSHIP OR NON-MEMBERSHIP IN A LABOR ORGANIZATION, PROHIBITING AGREEMENTS EXCLUDING ANY PERSON FROM EMPLOYMENT BECAUSE OF MEMBERSHIP OR NON-MEMBERSHIP IN A LABOR ORGANIZATION, PROHIBITING STRIKES OR PICKETING TO INDUCE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE; MAKING ILLEGAL COMPELLING OR ATTEMPTING TO COMPEL A PERSON TO JOIN OR NOT TO JOIN A LABOR ORGANIZATION OR LEAVE HIS EMPLOYMENT AGAINST HIS WILL; PROHIBITING CONSPIRACY TO CAUSE THE DISCHARGE OF ANY PERSONS BECAUSE OF MEMBERSHIP OR NON-MEMBERSHIP IN A LABOR ORGANIZATION; PROVIDING RIGHT OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES FOR VIOLATION; AND PROVIDING FOR INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, COUNTY OF MONTEREY, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. DEFINITION OF LABOR ORGANIZATION.—The term "labor organization" means any organization of any kind, or any agency or employee representation committee or plan, in which employees participate and which exists for the purpose, in whole or in part, of dealing with employers concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment or other conditions of employment.

Section 2. DEFINITION OF PERSON. The word "person" includes a corporation, association, company, firm or labor organization, as well as a natural person.

Section 3. AGREEMENTS PROHIBITING EMPLOYMENT BECAUSE OF MEMBERSHIP OR NON-MEMBERSHIP IN LABOR ORGANIZATION PROHIBITED.

No person shall be denied the opportunity to obtain or retain employment in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea because of membership or non-membership in a labor organization, nor shall the City, any agency, thereof or any corporation, individual or association of any kind enter into any agreement, written or oral, which excludes any person from employment or continuation of employment within said City because of membership or non-membership in a labor organization.

Section 4. CERTAIN CONTRACTS DECLARED ILLEGAL AND VOID. Any act or provision in any agreement entered into on or after the effective date hereof or any renewal or extension of any existing agreement entered into on or after the effective date hereof which is in violation of this ordinance shall be illegal and void. Any strike or picketing within said City to force or induce any employer to make an agreement in writing or orally in violation of this ordinance shall be for an illegal purpose.

Section 5. COMPELLING A PERSON TO JOIN A LABOR ORGANIZATION OR TO STRIKE AGAINST HIS WILL OR TO LEAVE HIS EMPLOYMENT PROHIBITED.—It shall be unlawful for any employee, organization, or officer, agent or member thereof to compel or attempt to compel and person within said City to join or not to join any labor organization or to strike against his will or to leave his employment within said City by any threatened or actual interference with his person, immediate family, employment or property.

Section 6. CONSPIRACIES TO VIOLATE ACT PROHIBITED.—Any combination or conspiracy by two or more persons to cause the discharge of any person or to cause him to be denied employment because he is or is not a member of a labor organization, by inducing or attempting to induce any other person to refuse to work with such person, shall be illegal.

Section 7. LIABILITY FOR DAMAGES.—Any person who violates any provision of this ordinance, or who enters into any agreement containing a provision declared illegal by this ordinance, or who shall bring about the discharge or the denial of employment of any person because of membership or non-membership in a labor organization shall be liable to the person injured as the result of such act or provision for such damages as such person injured may have sustained thereby and may be sued therefor.

Section 8. INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.—Any person injured or threatened with injury by any act declared illegal by this ordinance shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this ordinance or any other ordinance to the contrary, be entitled to injunctive relief therefrom.

Section 9. SEVERABILITY OF PROVISIONS.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance be for any reason held to be unconstitutional, invalid or contrary to law, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance, it being the intent of the people of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, that each and every other section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof shall be enforced irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of the ordinance be declared unconstitutional, invalid or contrary to law.

Section 10. This ordinance is to take effect according to law following its adoption by a majority of registered voters of Carmel voting in the regular City Election, April 8, 1958.

Dated: Carmel California, Dec. 17, 1957.

NOTE: The reason for the proposed petition for an Initiative Ordinance is to provide legal means for dealing with picketing incidents.

AND ON EARTH PEACE

Now that the words of Christmas once again
Implore the world and are again refused,
I delve for deep awareness to infuse
Into this life's perplexity and pain.

I watch above the ocean for the star
That comes so still and lonely at this time,
Shedding upon the waves its silver rhyme,
Riding the wrack and cloud without a scar.

The winter tree against December's sky
Has never stood more poignantly than now;
There is no leaf to soothe its tragic lines,
But far beyond the landscape of the eye,
Within the core, within the barren bough,
Faith shines with life, inseparably entwined.

—DORA HAGEMEYER.

STREET CAROLLING

Frost-clear, a carillon of flame is ringing
Where kindled voices peal the Bethlehem night—
Child choristers and choired candles singing
The Savior's birth, in canticles of light.

—HELEN SEARIGHT FAULKNER.

teachers' salary committee presented a new salary schedule which raises the minimum from $4300 to $4350; the maximum from $7000 to $7450. The board held it over until the classified (non-teaching employees) salary schedule will be available, when they can study both in relation to the budget. Financial Advisor Howard Reed said he thought the money would be available. Mr. Reed presented an analysis of revenues and expenses of the district, actual and estimated from 1952 to 1959, anticipating that about $70,000 above tax income would be necessary for operational expenses, which would involve a 25 percent override tax.

Superintendent Stuart Mitchell recommended to the board that a bond election be called for April 1 to finance additional class rooms at the high school and River School, also offices at the high school. This construction is needed for next fall whether or not the valley districts vote to join the Carmel District, he said. April 1 is the earliest date, since the Valley would not be eligible to participate in the bond elections before February 1, and 60 day legal notice is necessary. Call for bids could be issued June 3. School Architect Thomas Elston said that the three summer months would be time enough to complete the construction. Mr. Mitchell also recommended that the board appoint a citizens committee to promote the bond and over-ride tax elections.

ALADDIN IN CARMEL

Re-printed below is a newspaper clipping, written by a roving reporter, who was greatly taken by the wondrous things displayed in Mr. Winter's shop, The Village Jeweler, on Dolores Street.

"Aladdin, lost in his cave and putting out his hand to the trees which bore the fruits of glorious color and fashioned of precious stones, was no more astounded than is the Carmel visitor who just happens into the 'ear-ring' shop. It can't be, one thinks, on being told that there is a place whose sole stock in trade is ear-rings. It is altogether unlikely that a merchant would say, 'This one thing I do', and then stick to ear-rings, of all things.

"And it isn't quite that way, really, because there are a few—a very few—other bits of jewelry to be found in this little cave. But these are far outshone by the main item, a piece de resistance which whets but never satisfies the appetite.

"Recently a New York salesman unloaded his sample cases before the doorway of this small establishment. He came as missionary to unknown parts, for isn't Carmel, California, a tiny hinterland village which tries hard but doesn't quite know how? On stepping inside, he fell back, dismayed. 'Oh, no!' was his shout of disbelief. There was no need for missionary work here—not in his department, anyhow.

"The Village Jeweler, whose astute owners have collected all this loot and put it under one roof, literally has the largest and most surprising display of ear-rings in the United States. No foolin'. And it takes a mighty stout-hearted woman to pass up the feast.

"Did your grandmother own some beautifully wrought bracelets of soft gold, with classic designs running through the pattern? And, having had these appraised, have you taken them down to the bank for safe keeping? You can match them here in ear-rings, and at a painless price. Persons knowing the value of Grandma's keep-sakes will be properly impressed at the ear-rings you have chosen to go with them, and you can save the price of an extra safety-deposit box.

"Every color of the spectrum, softly muted, is here, in ascending or descending scale, as to hues and shades and tints. If it's azure or lapis Lazuli or rose or emerald or amethyst or topaz or gold or silver you prefer, you mention it. At once you find yourself in the predicament of the fellow who likes pie and is let loose in the cafeteria where the chef has out-done himself this day with apple and peach and cherry and lemon and chocolate and gooseberry and blueberry and raisin and custard and currant and squash and mince. He can't eat them all but he's happier than larks in the pop-corn.

"There are whole trays of each color, quite by itself. And these range in style from what you would wear to your Grand-Aunt Emma's tea for the ladies' knitting group to something dazzling for a night on the town in company with six drunken sailors. You accept a lapful of jewels from the trusting soul who is the proprietor and have yourself a big time. All HE has to do is hope your check won't bounce.

"There is something barbaric in almost every female. She 'hates' jewelry, maybe, but when she says 'jewelry' she almost never means little things to stick in her ears. Count the number of women you see who are not wearing brooches, bracelets, rings, necklaces or tiaras: but who are wearing ear-rings. That's because The Little Woman feels kind of undressed without them. The Village Jeweler is for the likes of her. And it's worth the trip — from ANY distance. A Christmas shoppers' paradise."—Adv.
